

Poligof expands his geographical footprint with a Green-Field manufacturing plant in Mexico

Poligof has completed the building construction of its fifth production plant, located in San Luis Potosì, Mexico.

Poligof-Mexico will support the Group global customers relying on the same technology, service and product performance already known since more than forty years.

Product offering includes backsheet films and laminates, breathable and non, synchro printed. A wide portfolio of sustainable products will complete the offer.

This new asset allows Poligof Group to broaden its geographical footprint, creating the base for a growth in North and Latin American market.

Operations will start in early Q2 2022.
