

Poligof expands North American presence with greenfield project in Mexico

July 21, 2021 Poligof announce today the approval of the investment for a greenfield operation in Mexico. The project consists on the start up of a new plant for the production of backsheet, aimed at serving the North and South American disposable hygiene markets.

The new plant will be strategically located in San Luis Potosi and will be using Poligof's proprietary technology and know-how to produce breathable and non-breathable films as well as textile backsheet, printed up to 6 colors.

This initiative will contribute to the the Group's growth, following to the successful start ups in India and Russia.

Start up of the Mexican operations is scheduled for the second quarter of 2022.
